Regimental Runner, soldier of fine courage and devotion; assured liaison at all times between units during the battle, notably on the morning of July 21, when, due to his quick and courageous action, he succeeded in properly placing an important unit at a most critical time. Was wounded while so doing. Cited in General Orders No. 20, Headquarters, 1st Division, AEF, France, May 17, 1918: "During a heavy gas bombardment and intense darkness, went to the assistance of wounded officers and men, bound up their wounds with his own clothing and remained with them until they were removed to dressing stations. As a result of his devotion to duty Private Criss was gassed." Awarded the French Fourragere in the colors of the French Croix de Guerre as an individual decoration, on account of his presence with the organization on each of the occasions for which he was cited in French Orders. Palm awarded under Order No. 11,220 "D," dated Nov. 6, 1918. General Headquarters, French Armies of the North and Northeast, with the citation: "A courageous and devoted regimental runner. He constantly kept up a liaison during the course of the battle, notably on the morning of July 21, 1918, when he succeeded in placing an important unit at the desired point at a critical moment. Was wounded in the accomplishment of his mission." Gilt star awarded under Order No. 342, dated May 20, 1918. General Headquarters, 10th French Army Corps, with the citation: "Private Karl Criss, a runner with the 18th Infantry Regiment, who gave proof of courage, devotion and absolute disregard of danger in going to the aid of wounded officers and men during a heavy gas shell fire. He dressed their wounds, making use of his own clothing and remained with them until the arrival of stretcher-bearers. He was gassed during the bombardment." Entitled to wear the French Fourragere in the colors of the French Croix de Guerre; French Croix de Guerre with palm and gilt star, and three silver stars.
